March 15 A P. GOVER.

Notice,

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that PROVIDENCE, at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that village for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alexandria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on, would meet with great encouragement, and be a public convenience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above description must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a convenient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on application to RICH'D. RATCLIFFE,
Fairfax Court-House, Va

A CONSOLATION;
OR, THE POWER OF TIME.

Empires dissolve, and kings revert to clay,
Rocks fall to dust, and mountains melt away;
The globe itself—Yea! all that it contains,
The sun, and all that to the sun pertains,
The solar system, and the starry spheres,
Will yield at last to days, and months, and years;
Time conquers all, earth, water, fire & air,
Then why should I repine when my old stockings tear.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

WALL-STREET is a kind of commercial barometer, and I always observe the countenances of men of business in passing through that bustling street. Very lately I was stopped by a commercial quidnunc, who informed me that Mr. A. B, C, D, E and F, had failed within three days; that times were uncommonly bad, and prospects very gloomy; and the result could not be foreseen. Independent of the hazards of commerce, I could account for these failures whose houses, of some ten years standing had commenced with small capitals; some with no capital, and instead of uniting industry, prudence, and rigid economy, a contrary course had been pursued, and the first shock overwhelmed them. Look into the houses of some of the merchants, and see them furnished with a splendor equal to that of British nobility; look at their mode of life, and actual expenses, and say whether any business can bear such extravagance. Several of these broken merchants have expended for ten years past, near ten thousand dollars per annum, in their houses, carriages and wine—can it therefore, be surprising that an accumulation of such expenses should lead to ruin.

I have long observed, with regret the wanton extravagance of our merchants and traders. A store is rented at 1200 or 1500 dollars per annum, and a dwelling house at 1000 or 1200 dollars; and a system of living corresponding with such establishments is adopted, which sets economy at defiance and leads to ruin— and by a pernicious example, attracts others into the dangerous vortex. Why should men waste money? Why should more money be expended than what may be necessary for the decent comforts of life? Why will families plunge themselves in ruin, merely to live a few years in luxury? Is not a course at war with common sense, and with the duty which a man owes to society and his family? Can any business prosper under an annual domestic expenditure of 10,000 dollars, together with losses in trade? These reflections I made to myself, as I entered Broadway and looked into Eastburn's; not a soul was there—and not one dollar would extravagant men take from their appetites to purchase a mental banquet at so large a store-house—a crowd was entering the City Hotel, and as I followed all crowds to study character, I fell in the current, which carried me up to the ball room, where on a long table which covered half the saloon, a gorgeous display of rich plated ware was seen—an auctioneer was selling the ware to many ladies, and very few gentlemen, and the ladies were bidding for articles the real value of which they were ignorant of. Now thinks I, while these amiable wives are so anxiously struggling to get rid of their husbands money, their husbands are toiling in the sun borrowing at large premiums in Wall-street, and doing all to preserve their credit, while their unthinking companions are plunging them into deeper difficulties. One lady bid high for a plated soup tureen —"She shant have it, I am determind," said a little cross woman, "I'll have it cost what it will;" then commenced opposition, then commenced a system of outbidding, until the articles were knocked off at twice their value. And who suffers said I? The husband. Surely, some reflection, some consideration, is due to a toiling, anxious, worried husband, who while endeavouring to save a dollar in business, loses twenty by the extravagance of a wife. Why buy a plated soup tureen for forty dollars? Will not one of china for five dollars do full as well? Why buy plated wine coolers—plated toast racks, beef stake plates and gravy dishes? If you cannot afford to buy silver, then purchase china, which is more neat and economical.— But the eccentricities of fashion are ruining families by wholesale; and what is wasted for unnecessary articles, would doubly pay for those which are indipensable.

If these things are not checked, we may complain of the times without producing reform, and now is the time to commence the work of regeneration, and to use firmness where persuasion fails.

HOWARD.

ALEXANDRIA:
THURSDAY, MAY 27, 1819.

CHATEAUBRIAND ON THE ENGLISH NATION.
(Concluded.)

The political bent of the English is well known in France, but most people are ignorant as to the parties into which the parliament is divided. Besides that of the minister, and the one in opposition to it, there is a third, which may be called the Anglicanus, at the head of which is Mr. Wilberforce. It consists of about a hundred members, who rigidly adhere to ancient manners, particularly in whatever respects religion. Their wives are clothed like quakers; they themselves affect great simplicity, and give a large part of their revenues to the poor. Mr. Pitt was of this sect, and it was through their influence that he was elevated, as well as maintained in the office of prime minister; for by supporting one side or the other, they are almost sure to constitute a majority, and decide the question under discussion.— When the affairs of Ireland were debated, they took alarm at the promises which Mr. Pitt made to the Catholics, and threatened to pass over to the opposition, upon which the minister made an able retreat from office, in order to preserve the friends with whom he agreed on most essential points, and escape from the difficulties into which circumstances had drawn him. Having acted thus, he was sure not to offend the Anglicans, even if the bill passed; and if, on the contrary, it was rejected, the Catholics of Ireland could not accuse him of breaking his engagement. It has been asked in France, whether Mr. Pitt lost his credit with his place, but a single fact will be the best answer to this question. He still sits in the house of commons. When he shall be transferred to the upper house, his political career will be at an end.

An erroneous opinion is entertained by the French, as to the influence of the party in England called the opposition, which is completely fallen in the opinion of the public. It possesses neither great talents nor real patriotism. Mr. Fox himself is no longer of any use to it, having lost all his eloquence from age and the excesses of the table. It is certain that his wounded vanity, rather than any other motive, induced him, for so long a time, to discontinue his attendance in parliament.

The bill which excludes from the house of commons every person in holy orders, has been also misinterpreted at Paris. It is not known that the only object of this measure was to expel Horne Tooke,* a man of genius and a violent enemy of government, who had formerly been in orders, but had abandoned his cloth; who had also been a supporter of power, even to the extent of drawing upon himself an attack from the pen of Junius; and finally became a proselyte of liberty, like many others.

Parliament lost in Mr. Burke its most distinguished member. He detested the French revolution, but to do him justice, no Englishman ever more sincerely loved the French as individuals, or more applauded their valor or their genius. Though he was not rich, he founded a school for the expatriated youth of our nation, where he spent whole days in admiring the genius and vivacity of these children. He used often to relate an anecdote on this subject. Having introduced the son of an English nobleman to be educated at this school, the young orphans proposed to play with him, but the lord did not chuse to join in their sports. "I don't like the French," said he frequently with a degree of asperity. A little boy, who could never draw from him any other answer, said "that is impossible. You have too good a heart to hate us.— Should not your lordship substitute your fear for your hatred?"

It would be right to speak here of English literature, and the men of letters, but they demand a separate article. I will therefore content myself, for the present, with recording some critical decisions, which have much astonished me, because they are in direct contradiction to our received opinions.

Richardson is little read, being accused of insupportable tediousness and lowness of style. It is said of Hume and Gibbon, that they have lost the genius of the English language, and filled their writings with a crowd of Gallicisms; the former is also accused of being dull and immoral. Pope merely passes for an exact and elegant versefier; Johnson contends that his essay on man is only a collection of common place passages rendered into pleasant metre. Dryden and Milton are the only ones to whom the title of author is exclusively applied. The Spectator is almost forgotten, and Locke is seldom mentioned, being thought a feeble visionary. None but professed philosophers read Bacon. Shakspeare alone preserves his influence.

"I will close this article with some brief observations on the soil, the atmosphere, and public buildings of England.

"The country is almost without birds,† and the rivers are small, but the banks of these have, nevertheless, a pleasing effect, from the solitude which prevails there. The verdure of the fields is of a most lively description. There are few, indeed hardly any woods; but every person's small property being inclosed by a hedge, you might fancy, when you take a survey from the top of a hill, that you were in the middle of a forest. England, at the first glance, resembles Britany, the heaths and plains being surrounded with trees. As to the sky of this country, its azure is brighter than ours, but less transparent. The variations of light are more striking from the number of clouds. In summer when the sun sets at London, beyond Kensington Gardens, it sometimes affords a very picturesque spectacle. The immense volume of coal smoke hanging over the city, represents those black rocks, tinged with purple, which are adopted in our representations of Tartarus, while the ancient towers of Westminster Abbey, crowned with vapours, and reddened with the last rays of the sun, raise their heads above the city, the palace and St. James' park, like a great monument of death, appearing to command all the other handy-works of man.

"St. Paul's Church is the most beautiful modern, and Westminster Abbey the most beautiful gothic edifice in England. I shall, perhaps, speak more at large respecting the latter, on some future occasion. I have often, when returning from my excursions round London, passed behind Whitehall, through the court in which Charles the 1st was beheaded. It is in an abandoned state, and the grass grows among the stones. I have sometimes stopped and listened to the wind moaning round the statue of Charles the 2d, which points to the spot where his father perished. I never found any person in this place, but workmen cutting stone, whistling as they pursued their labors. Having asked one day what this statue meant, some of them could hardly give me an answer, and others were entirely ignorant of the subject. Nothing ever afforded a more just idea of human events and our littleness.—What is become of persons who made so much noise? Time has taken a stride, and the face of the earth has been renewed. To generations, then divided by political animosity, have succeeded generations indifferent to the past, but filling the present times with new animosities, which succeeding generations will in time forget."

* The law disqualifying pries's from sitting in parliament existed before Mr. Tooke was born.

Baltimore, May 25.

Agreeably to adjournment the circuit court met yesterday morning and proceeded with the trial of capt. Daniels. Mr. Gleun, the district attorney entered into arguments, and brought forward authorities to overthrow the ground taken on Saturday by Mr. Pinkney, that there was no law now in existence to sustain the indictment. He was followed on the same side by Mr. Martin. Mr. Pinkney rose in reply to the two former gentlemen, and in defence of the position previously advanced.

After the counsel on both sides had been heard the court delivered its opinion on the point in controversy, the substance of which was that the letter of the law was plain and clear—the law of 1818, repealed the statute of 1817, preserving a proviso to punish "as if the same had not been repealed." The law of 1817 being limited, and necessarily expired on the 3d of March 1819, the court therefore laid aside the repeal, and consequently the law is not in existence, and no prosecution can be maintained. The court adjourned until this morning.

Eleven of the pirates who left the brig Irresistible in the Chesapeake and came up to this town have been apprehended and committed to jail. An affidavit enumerating the robberies committed by this lawless gang during the cruize, has been made before the Mayor, which clearly proves the fact of their having plundered the American brig Superior, while on her passage from Baltimore to New-Orleans. They will remain in our jail subject to the order of the United States District Court, which convenes at Richmond on Saturday next.—Three of them are coloured men. There are five others we understand who have been shipped for the United States' service and are now on board the ship Alert; they will be demanded by the civil authority to be dealt with according to the laws which they have violated.

MURDER.

Information was received in this city a few days ago that the body of a Mr. Jas. Adams, a native of England, was found on Sunday the 9th inst. near Cumberland, in this state, having been murdered in a horrible manner. It appears that he had gone into the interior for the purpose of purchasing land, having brought with him a considerable sum of money in gold—he travelled in company with the three men mentioned below. As soon as the murder was known, suspicion was directed to his companions, who disappeared immediately after it. Pursuit was commenced and they were traced to this city, where they were apprehended on Wednesday last.—On being searched two purses of gold were found on them, besides a number of articles which have been identified by persons in this city as belonging to the deceased. Mr. Adams was known here and is said to have resided at New Rumley Marsh, near Dover, Kent County, England.

The names of the men who are apprehended and of whose guilt we are sorry to add there appears to be but little doubt, are Wm. Cotterell, the father, and Wm. and John Cotterrell his two sons. They all came from Hummington, near Castle Dunnington, Leicestershire, England, and were passengers in the same ship with the deceased from England. When apprehended they had engaged and paid for their passage in Gold, in the ship Franklin, about to sail for Liverpool.

We are informed that previous to his departure from this city Mr. Adams mentioned that he had a draft on a merchant here whose name is not known, for a considerable amount. The draft has not yet been found.

The effects of the deceased are in possession of Mr. N. Fowler, Constable, No 28, Lancaster street, Fell's Point.

FROM ST. AUGUSTINE.

We have conversed with three intelligent gentlemen, who left that town on the 10th inst, and understand, that most of the inhabitants are desirous to remove as quick as possible to Cuba, but as few persons are willing to give the prices asked for landed property, the greater number will become American citizens. None are opposed so much to the cession as the renegade Americans, who have there found an asylum from their country's offended laws, while many of the Spaniards only regret the event inasmuch as it separates them, should they remain, from the present governor, who is deservedly revered, and furnishes a striking contrast to the cruelty, arrogance, ignorance, and depraved habits which too frequently characterize the officers of Spain. Excepting the outlaws, the Americans, in the province, are anxiously awaiting the delivery of the province to the United States, when they will participate in the blessings of a free government and equable laws, which, tho' Governor Coppinger uses his utmost exertions to prevent grievances, they cannot be said at present to enjoy. There is little or no business transacted there now, money being so scarce, that five hundred dollars worth of goods would glut the market. Not a syllable had been heard there of the cession of Cuba to England.

Washington, May 24.

A letter from a gentleman in North Carolina, to his friend in this city, says—"The East Indian merchants and brokers are ruining the country; nor can the extent of the mischief be seen. Two Brokers from N. York have, in the course of a few weeks carried from this state, it is believed an hundred thousand dollars in specie, and further runs are apprehended. And no doubt the reports you mention, which are calculated to sink the value of our state bank notes abroad, are connected with these runs, and fabricated for the purpose of infamous speculation. It must be evident that, if this course be unremittingly pursued, it will break every bank in the Union, as it is impossible to replenish our vaults so fast as these enemies of the community can, in this way, draw out the specie. To prevent a complete exhaustion of specie, if these runs are continued, the banks, in defence, will be driven into a refusal to pay specie when thus run upon. But the difficulty will be in making the distinction. Congress, in my opinion would have prevented all this distress, by prohibiting the exportation of specie, and nothing else will produce the desired effect. I know some think this would not; but I should like to see it tried."

These brokers will soon find running the banks rather an unprofitable business, it is to be hoped. We should fear that the refusal to meet the demands of these runners would but create them a golden harvest. But those who have the direction of these Institutions are the best judges of the policy it is proper for them to pursue. As to the runners, it is no bad criterion of the estimation in which they hold their own vocation, that they, as we are informed, frequently either wholly refuse their names or appropriate to their use feigned names when they go on these expeditions.

(CIRCULAR.)

Sir: The advices brought from Tangier by the quarantine schooner, furnish the following particulars as to the state of the public health in Barbary:

The total number of deaths by the plague, in Tangier, from the 9th to the 22nd inst. was 8 persons.

Do. do. at Tetuan, from the 7th to 21st was 354.

At Fez, the deaths continued from 130 to 140 daily.

The report of the existence of the plague at Morocco, as stated in my last, is not confirmed by any positive intelligence, though there are strong grounds to believe it to be the case. At Rabat, Larache, and Mequinez, the mortality continues much the same as by the preceding reports. At Aizilla the deaths are from 2 to 3 daily. Mogadore is stated to enjoy good health.

By an official communication from Mahon, dated the 18th ultimo, I am informed that a vessel had recently arrived there from Algiers, bringing accounts that accidents from the plague still continued in that city.

GEORGE DON, General.

Captain Crane,

Commanding U. S. Frigate U. States.

[We learn that the necessary precautions have been adopted by the Commander of the United States' squadron in the Mediterranean, to prevent all communication with the vessels from Barbary, and also to prevent the American vessels from being boarded by their cruizers.]

An account has reached us from Gibraltar, of sundry quarrels between our naval officers and the British officers in that garrison, which had eventuated in two duels, and that one of our officers, (Doctor Montgomery) had sent a challenge to the whole regiment; and the other, (Mr. Purser Bourne) had been shot in the thigh; and the Doctor had shot a British Captain thro' the body. We cannot but regret these quarrels—they are injurious to both nations. A professed duellist is no better than an assassin; and we lament to see any thing on the part of our officers which looks like hectoring or bullying. That they should not submit to insult need not be mentioned; but we do not relish the idea of challenging a regiment. It is not proper—and, though there are some haughty and insolent officers in the British army whose pride requires checking, there are some galllant and honorable men. Why will soldiers forget the good old motto—"Enemies in war, in peace friends."

EMIGRATION.

A caravan consisting of eleven covered waggons, drawn by two, three or four horses each, two coachees, a number of outriding horses, and about 120 persons, composing the expedition under Captains Blackman and Allen, for the state of Illinois, crossed the Powles Hook ferry yesterday, on its way to the west. Those two gentlemen having been for a number of years engaged as ship masters in the China trade, and made handsome fortunes, have now turned their attention to the fertile plains of the Illinois, and have commenced the forming of a settlement there on their extensive purchase. The present caravan forms the first division. In the autumn the second division marches——and in the spring following the third division, which is to complete the establishment, will advance.

In the company which passed here yesterday, there were farmers, carpenters, blacksmiths, wheelwrights, masons, coopers, &c. &c. with their families, mostly natives of the "northern hive." All their equipments were in fine order, and the emigrants in fine spirits. If the population of that fertile state is to be formed of such materials, we shall soon find Illinois taking rank along side of the very respectable state of Ohio. [Com. Adv.

FIRE.

Hyde Park house on Long Island, occupied by Mr. Cobbett was burnt to the ground last Thursday. The following letter gives the particulars.

"The house is burnt smack down.—Some of our furniture destroyed. Our clothes generally saved. Bedsteads and bedding generally destroyed. All the books and papers saved. All the seeds saved except some few. No person hurt. The fire broke out in the roof, about four o'clock in the afternoon, from a crack in the chimney, where the fire got through! Just in the same way that Hyde Park house was destroyed in the year 1773—I was at Flushing. The men fall out in the fields at work. Mrs. Churcher first saw the fire first blazing on the roof, as she was going from the back house. I got home about 7 o'clock. I need not say, that our neighbors have been very kind. [Eve. Post.

FROM INDIA.

We are indebted to Mr. Topliff of Merchants' Hall for Calcutta papers to January 22, from which we have made a few extracts. Accounts had been received at Bombay of some disaffection among the Janissaries and their adherents at Constantinople.

Ceylon.—We have at length the satisfaction of announcing the return of the Governor to Columbo, after an absence of more than 15 months, having effectually crushed the alarming insurrection which had so long distracted that country, and ultimately established the British dominion on a firmer basis than ever, throughout the whole of the Kandyan Provinces.

Bombay.—Accounts of the ravages of the epidemic still continues to reach us from various parts of the country. The disease had appeared at Tellicherry, Cannonare and Madras.

Export of Cottons from India, in the year 1818.—Whole number of bales, 660-655; of which 360,532 were shipped to England, 84,199 to America, and the remainder to Europe and China.

Calcutta, Jan. 22. Cotton—Quotations must still be considered in a great degree nominal—but little business has been done in it, very little of fine descriptions in market. Indigo—Sales during the last week have not been considerable, and no alteration in price has taken place. Silk—prices nominal, very little at present in the market.

Bombay, Dec. 26, 1818.—The crop of cotton of the past season appears almost inexhaustible, the exports from this place during the year amount to 244,700 bales, a quantity more than double what it has ever been before.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or dissatisfaction on the other he is willing to be governed by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

Tanyard Again.

THE sale of the tanyard, near the stone bridge, on the western extremity of Alexandria, advertised to take place on the 12th inst. was postponed. It will positively be offered at public auction on the premises, on TUESDAY the 15th of next month, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, under the authority of a deed of trust from Elisha Talbot and Daniel McPherson to the subscriber, to secure the payment of a sum of money to Archibald McClean.

This valuable property, and elegant stand for the tanning business, will be sold, subject to the claim of Mordecai Miller for $6500, with what interest shall be due thereon, unless otherwise declared on the day of sale. The terms of sale & other arrangements will then be made known. JONAH ISABELL, Trustee.

Public Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust from Daniel McPherson and wife to the subscriber to secure to the Mechanics' Bank of Alexandria the payment of a debt due from John McPherson and Son, will be sold at public sale on the premises, on THURSDAY, the 10th day of June next, a certain tract of land, known by the name of ROUND-HILL, in the county of Fairfax, lying on both sides of the Colchester road, adjoining the lands of George Triplett, Dr. Richard Mason, and others, containing 164¼ acres, be the same more or less. This land is handsomely situated, and has lately received considerable improvements. Few farms of its size in the county, perhaps, present higher inducements to a tasteful proprietor.

The terms are one-fourth cash, and the remainder in three equal instalments at 12, 18 and 24 months, with interest from the day of sale. W. VEITCH, Trustee.
April 29 thstutJ10

Public Sale.

ON the 9th DAY of JULY next, at 12 o'clock of that day, by virtue of a deed of trust, we will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on the premises, that very valuable tract of land in Fairfax county, near Holmes's Run, and about four miles from Alexandria, generally known by the name of containing about 115 acres. This land is about one half in wood—the balance cleared, and in cultivation, with convenient buildings on it, and excellent water near them. A considerable proportion of the open land is fertile, and well calculated for timothy meadows.

The sum of $2,254 77 cts will be required to be paid in cash; for the residue a credit of twelve months will be given from the day of sale, the purchaser paying interest thereon, and giving satisfactory security for the punctual payment thereof. A conveyance will be made when the purchase money and interest is all paid up. If the terms of the sale should not be complied with by the purchaser, the premises will be immediately re-sold to the highest bidder, at the risque of the person to whom it shall have been struck off; and the same course will be repeated until an effectual sale shall have taken place.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufactoring mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensels and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

District of Columbia,

County of Alexandria to Wit.

ON the petition of OLIVER SKINNER, an insolvent debtor confined in the jail of Alexandria county for debt, notice is hereby given to the creditors of the said Oliver Skinner, that on the first Monday in June next, at 8 o'clock, A. M. at the Court-house of said county, the oath prescribed by an act of Congress of the United States, entitled "An act for the relief of insolvent debtors within the District of Columbia," will be administered to the said insolvent, and a trustee appointed, unless sufficient cause to the contrary be then and there shown.

Ordered, that this notice be published twice a week for two weeks before that day in both the newspapers published in Alexandria. By order of the hon. Wm. Cranch, chief judge of the United States' circuit court for the district of Columbia.

100 Dollars Reward.

IS known to have been kidnapped from a field near Germantown, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, on the 30th ult. whilst at work alone, a Free Black Man, named HENRY HUDSON, aged between 21 and 22 years, of the height of five feet five inches, very black complexion and dark eyes, has a scar under his left arm, between the wrist and elbow, occasioned by the cut of an axe.

He is by occupation a farmer, a native of Kent county, in the state of Delaware, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket, old black silk vest, corded velvet pantaloons, and a wool hat.

He is a very civil, inoffensive man, with rather a down look. There is reason to suppose that he was decoyed into a carriage, and conveyed southward.

Any information respecting him will be thankfully received. Keepers of turnpike gates, toll bridges, and taverns, are particularly requested to give such information as may be in their power.

The above reward will be cheerfully paid on conviction of the perpetrators of this flagrant outrage upon the rights of a freeborn citizen of the United States.

Exchange & Broker's Office,

ROMULUS RIGGS,

AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

To the Printers of the United States.

GENTLEMEN: In presenting a list of new prices of types, some explanatory remarks may be useful. The former prices were fixed during a period in which the raw materials were dear, and not easily to be procured, and it is presumed that they had some claim to be considered moderate, as in 1812 type were more than 3 per cent lower in Philadelphia than in London; and no advance was made on those prices during the late war, although existing circumstances would have justified the measure. It was considered that an advance would be an actual loss to the printers, as the competition in the printing business had, before that period arrived at such a point, that the public were supplied with printing at nearly the minimum; and also, that it was probable the price of types would continue sometime after the return of peace, and recomperse for any advantage that was given up. This has taken place.

For some time past, types have been lowered in value but not in price. They have been sold on long and frequently uncertain credit, which produces to the seller all the effects of reduction of price, whilst to the printer who pays, it is comparatively of little benefit. All the advantages are in favor of those who promise, but do not perform, as, in truth, they get types for nothing, and the solvent printers pay for them. Another objection to this mode of reducing price is, that it absorbs the seller's funds, and, no matter how industrious or frugal he may be, subjects him to all the inconveniences of poverty.

Men who possess talents, economy, industry and honor, will sometimes lack money. The characters who have just claims to those attributes will rarely be at a loss for friends, and will enter on business with a more favorable prospect of success, when assisted by a moderate, than by an extended credit, which is equally within the reach of a rival, who, with an ardent disposition for speculation and adventure, may have but doubtful claims to reputation and prudence.

In order to leave no ground for complaint, it is to be understood that all purchasers, since the 1st of April, who comply with the new terms, will be entitled to benefit by the new prices.

Presuming on the long intimacy which has subsisted between you, gentlemen, and this establishment, I request you will give this an insertion in your papers.

Yours, respectfully,

JAMES RONALDSON.

Charlotte Hall School.

THE board of trustees for Charlotte Hall school deem it their duty to announce to the public, the present flourishing condition of this institution. Since the introduction of the present professors, the school has rapidly progressed in the public esumation.

When Philip Briscoe, esq. was called to assume the office of Principal, there were but 27 pupils. The liberality of the State Legislature of 1817, enabled the trustees to retain his services and those of Mr. Millimore for the classical department—the Reverend Mr. Neale H. Shaw has also been retained as professor of mathematicks, and he is aided in that department by Mr. Sweetsee, a gentleman in high estimation as a professor. Under the management of these gentlemen the school has now 95 boys; and very many applications have already been made for entrance and board. Heretofore a portion of the boys have been compelled to board at the neighboring houses at too great a distance from the school; the trustees are now making arrangements which will enable fifty boys more to be accommodated immediately at the school; so that at all times the Principal will be enabled to exercise a general superintendance over their moral deportment (to the corruption of which, the boys in this retired village have but few temptations). The board will remark to those who are unacquainted with this place, that no part of Maryland is more distinguished for its general healthiness. The price of board is only 100 dollars a year. The tuition is now but 28 dollars a year! It will be raised after August to 32 dollars—a price much lower, however, than any of the public schools of our state.

It is intended then by the trustees to select four boys (of poor and indigent parents) of promise, and to board, clothe, and educate them entirely at the expense of the institution, and afterwards to labor to procure them that station to which their talents and conduct may entitle them.

Vaccine Institution.

THE small pox having appeared in Alexandria, such persons as have been vaccinated by the subscriber are invited to attend at his office, on St. Asaph-street, between Prince and Duke streets, to have their arms examined. Indigent persons are also invited to the same place for the purpose of being vaccinated. The subscriber will attend at his office every day in the week except Sunday, from 7 o'clock until 10 in the morning, for the purpose of receiving them.

He proposes also to be less particular than heretofore in the investigation of their claims to the benefit of the institution, as may respect their indigence and length of residence in town. The subscriber earnestly requests all such citizens as may be acquainted with persons liable to contagion, to send them without delay as above directed, where they will be served effectually and gratuitously.
